

SAMPLE QUOTES

.....

“You can say I said this: the pizza at lunch today was the best we’ve ever had!”	“Don’t tell anyone I said this, but I think someone is sneaking treats to the classroom pet.”
“A teacher told me the school might get a new playground soon, but I’m not supposed to say who.”	“I’m super excited about the class trip! You can use my name! I don’t mind!”
“This is just between us, okay? I saw someone sneaking extra crayons from the supply shelf.”	“You can say a student in grade 3 started a comic book club, just don’t say who told you.”
“I’m, Alex Snow I’m the volleyball team setter and I believe our school’s sports teams deserve more funding.”	“I think the student newspaper is doing a great job covering real issues but there is more to that story.”
“Yes, I was the one who started the book swap table in the hallway. I hope more people join!”	“Don’t write this down, but I heard the principal might cancel field day if it rains.”
“You can quote me! I think it’s great we’re learning about butterflies in science class.”	“This is off the record, but I think someone forgot to lock the art room after school.”

SAMPLE QUOTES

.....

“Feel free to say that a few students from our class helped clean up the playground.”	“I don’t want my name used, but I can tell you some kids were trading snacks under the table.”
“Put my name in the paper! I won the spelling bee and I’m really proud!”	“You didn’t hear this from me, but someone stuck googly eyes on all the classroom posters.”
“You can say a teacher is starting a new lunch club, but she asked not to be named yet.”	“Sure, I said the music concert was awesome! You can write that.”
“It’s okay to say a student brought cookies for everyone, just don’t say who.”	“Yes, you can say I painted the mural in the hallway with Ms. Lee.”
“You can report that a group of kids are practicing a dance for the talent show.”	“Don’t include this in your story, but I think someone left their lunch in their backpack all week. There’s a bad smell in my classroom.”
“Go ahead and write that I helped set up the library display. It was fun!”	“Just between us, I heard someone accidentally set off the fire alarm while trying to hang a poster.”